

Institut für Pharmazeutische
Wissenschaften

VORTRAGSANKÜNDIGUNG
Im Rahmen des Pharmazeutischen Kolloquiums
(Host: A. Kungl)

29. May 2015: 12h15
SR 03.K1, Schubertstraße 1

CHEMOKINE INTERACTION WITH GLYCOSAMINOGLYCANS AND INFLAMMATION

Dr. Jim Middleton
Professor & Reader in Cellular Immunology
School of Oral and Dental Sciences
University of Bristol
England

BSc in Applied Biology from Bath University and PhD in cartilage biochemistry and ultrastructure from Lancaster University. Postdoctoral positions were at Strangeways Research Laboratory Cambridge and Bath University. Senior Scientist in immunopharmacology at Novartis Research Institute, Vienna. Senior Lecturer, Reader, then Professor and Head of Arthritis Research at the RJA Orthopaedic Hospital, Oswestry which is part of the Medical School, Keele University. Visiting professor at Endocube, a biotech company in Toulouse, France. Consultant for GlaxoSmithKline. Joined Bristol University in Sept 2010 and became Professor and Reader in Cellular Immunology and Head of Inflammation and Immunology group, School of Oral and Dental Sciences, Faculty of Medicine and Dentistry.