21ST EUROPEAN STUDENTS’ CONFERENCE - CALL FOR ABSTRACTS!

The Team of the 21st annual ESC would cordially like to invite all those interested in Medicine and Biomedical Research to attend and participate in this year’s conference, which will take place at the Charité - Universitätsmedizin Berlin Campus Virchow from the 14th-17th October 2010.

Our patrons Prof. Annette Schavan, the Federal Minister of Education and Research, Dr. Philipp Rösler, the Federal Minister of Health and Klaus Wowereit, the Mayor of Berlin and we would like to invite you to participate actively in this year’s ESC. Please submit an abstract of your research project in any medical field by June 1st 2010 at the latest!

You can apply for an oral or for a poster presentation. For all those, who would just like to take part in one of the numerous workshops, for example “The Art of Presenting a Paper”, or listen to the lectures of internationally renowned scientists such as Prof. Dr Francis Lévi (INSERM, Université Paris XI), Prof. Dr. Dr.h.c.mult Walter Siegenthaler (Unispital Zurich, Switzerland), Prof. Dr. Bernd Dörken (Charité), it is possible to attend our conference as a passive participant WITHOUT presenting a paper of your own!!!

Further details on the ESC, the program overview as well as the application system are available on our website: www.esc-berlin.com

Submit your abstract!!!
The deadline is 1st June 2010!!!

- Abstracts from ALL fields of medical research are welcome
- Meet over 600 students & young scientists from all over the world at this global conference
- Present your own research in front of a panel of internationally renowned scientists & professors
- Have your abstract published in the European Journal of Medical Research
- Be one of the 10 participants to get the opportunity to visit the World Health Summit 2010
- Be part of a live surgery
- Improve your clinical skills & gain awareness of emerging medical challenges through workshops
- Enjoy Berlin's unique lifestyle with our social program